Fall 2018

Snow goose migration

Watching the Autumn migration of snow geese, tundra swans, sandhill cranes, and Hudsonian godwits in remote Manitoba is a thrilling sight. Add to that sightings of polar bears with their cubs, moose, numerous hawks, northern lights, a fish-stealing mink, and the changing colors of the tundra, and this fall's trip is hard to beat. Many thanks to Webber's Lodges and Doug and Helen Webber for sharing the landscape and its creatures with us!
