One of my favorite spots to visit when springs first arrives is Turnbull Wildlife Refuge just outside Cheney, WA. It's only an hour from my house. Once again Turnbull did not disappoint. We've had a wet March so the ponds were full and one gathering spot had 13 trumpeter swans. As an added bonus some pintails had arrived to keep them company. If that was all we saw it would have been enough, but there was more. Songbirds had started to arrive and a young moose from last year was snacking on the first buds of spring.
